LOCAL

Pathology Service

Douglass Hanly Moir Pathology is committed to providing doctors in the Macquarie University Hospital with the convenience of local services backed by the strength and resources of the largest private practice in Australia.

Dr Nick Taylor Medical Director – Macquarie University Hospital

Dr Taylor's areas of clinical speciality include general biochemistry, endocrinology and toxicology. His main laboratory interests involve the development of useful reference intervals and improved interpretive comments on pathology reports. He has served on the NSW Branch Committee of the Australian Association of Clinical Biochemists in different roles from 1988 to 1992, and from 2002 to 2004. He has also been a NATA medical laboratory assessor since 1992. Dr Taylor is available for consultation in all areas of biochemistry and endocrinology, while his main role in the laboratory will be in the area of automated testing.

Your Local Laboratory

The Douglass Hanly Moir Pathology laboratory in Macquarie University Hospital, works closely with our central laboratory at Macquarie Park, to provide you with the full resources of Australia's largest pathology practice. The decentralisation of our services enables us to personally attend to the requirements of local doctors and patients and assists in the rapid turnaround of results. The association of our local and central laboratories gives referring doctors the convenience of local services backed by the strength and resources of the largest private pathology facility in Australia.

Our laboratory staff are graduate scientists of a high academic and technical standard who provide a 24 hour service on-site.

Commitment to Hospital Pathology

Our company has been providing high quality pathology services to doctors in hospitals for many years. We have extensive experience in operating hospital laboratories and the support services required for the rapid turnaround of pathology results. Through our local laboratories, our numerous collection centres and our courier network, we are able to offer pathology services to doctors over a wide area of New South Wales.

We believe our long-term commitment to providing high quality pathology, and our experience in delivering this service, will enable us to meet the needs of doctors in the Macquarie University Hospital.

SUPPORTED

by Exceptional Resources

With over 55 pathologists and through our central laboratory, doctors at Macquarie University Hospital have access to the full resources of our practice.

Our Practice is Medically Led

Douglass Hanly Moir Pathology is the largest member of the Sonic Healthcare group of pathology and radiology practices. All Sonic Healthcare practices are medically managed, and so are well placed to appreciate the special needs of doctors and patients.

Sonic Healthcare, our parent company, is a medical diagnostics company, operating solely in the specialties of pathology and radiology. It is, like its subsidiaries, medically managed.

- Dr Colin Goldschmidt, who is the Managing Director of Sonic Healthcare and also the Chief Executive Officer of Douglass Hanly Moir Pathology, is a pathologist.
- Pathologists and radiologists are represented on the Sonic Healthcare Board of Directors.
- Pathologists and radiologists are involved at all levels of management.

Over 55 Pathologists - Working with Doctors in Clinical Practice

A fundamental basis of our practice is that referring doctors have ready and convenient access to our team of pathologists 24 hours a day.

Our team of pathologists include specialists in all major sub-disciplines of pathology, enabling us to provide you with expert and up-to-date advice in all areas of pathology. Pathologists are happy to discuss individual patients and to provide general information on ordering of tests and result interpretation.

Specific Histopathologists Report Cases from the Macquarie University Hospital

We have selected a group of histopathologists, to report all histopathological specimens referred to us by doctors at the Macquarie University Hospital. This allows the development of relationships between you and individual histopathologists and facilitates communication.
